Newly-Formed Route 62 Assn. Plans Dinner

Backers to Urge Developing Road As Major Artery

Framework for a Route 62 Assn. was put together at a meeting of representatives of cities and towns along the highway between here and the Ohio River in Hillsboro this week.

Primary purpose of the budding organization is to urge improvement of this federal highway between Washington C. H. and Ripley.

At this preliminary planning meeting were representatives from Washington C. H., Leesburg, Hillsboro, Russellville and Ripley.

George Blackmore of Washington was named temporary chairman and John E. Aills, also of Washington C. H., was named temporary secretary.

Another meeting has been set for July 16; it will be held in the Highlands Restaurant in Hillsboro, also.

At this meeting, Aills said, a permanent organization will be formed and permanent officers named.

HE EMPHASIZED that, although a proposed project at Ripley lends urgency to the organization, the next meeting was delayed to give more time to arouse interest in the development of Route 62 as major highway.

Blackmore emphasized that this meeting is open to everyone interested in Route 62—individuals and organizations. Representatives at the preliminary meeting, Blackmore said, had been asked to urge the people in the areas where they live to attend this meeting.

Aills said those who plan to attend this meeting should get in touch with him or one of the others at the first meeting before July 12. He explained that this will be a dinner meeting and that reservations will have to be made.

Blackmore and Aills stressed that the future of Route 62 is at stake—that it will either become a main highway or remain as one of the lesser north-south routes across Ohio—and that the projected association can be a factor in determining its future.

They noted that the proposed north-south freeway, which already is pushing its way toward Cincinnati from Cincinnati will cut Route 62 somewhere near Washington C. H. This, they contend, means that Route 62 could become a more important traffic artery for travel from the area served by Route 62.

Route 68, they said, which goes south from Wilmington, also is in the picture, since it also leads to and from the south.

The two Washington C. H. men agreed that it is unlikely that the projected Route 62 Assn. will make specific recommendations for improvement of the highway; rather, they said, it will probably ask the state and federal highway departments to "consider it as a No. 1 project in the highway development program."

Widening and lessening some of the curves, they said, "of course would have to be a part of any improvement program for the highway."

In addition to forming a Route 62 Assn. and election of officers Blackmore and Aills said "a broad plan of action" probably will be considered and several committees named.

O'Neill Offers Slogan Of 'Keep Ohio First'

LEBANON (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill, opening a series of campaign appearances, said here Friday night that "our slogan, whether Democrats, Republicans or independents, in this campaign ought to be 'Keep Ohio First.'"

The governor said that Ohio had been near the lowest states in highway building and construction of mental hospitals, but that under his administration, the state rose to first in the nation in both areas.

Mike Romanoff Sheds His Title of 'Prince'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—By act of Congress, cafe society restaurateur Mike Romanoff today is an ex-prince and a U. S. citizen. Romanoff dropped his pretenses to nobility Friday and was sworn in as a citizen. Before a federal judge he mentioned.

"I hereby renounce any title to the claim that I am prince of all the Russians."

His claim never came very close to being validated anyway.

U. S. Idle Pay Program Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today the first allocation of federal funds under the new emergency program for added unemployment payments to jobless workers whose benefits have expired.

The Labor Department said allocations totaling $37,398,848 have been certified for payment to eight states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

They are signed up under the voluntary program to finance a 50 per cent extension of state jobless pay programs. In most states payment of unemployment benefits is limited to a maximum of 26 weeks.

The Labor Department announced earlier this week 12 states have signed up under the program so far and that four others, including Ohio, have adopted equivalent programs at their own expense.

The eight states that will receive the allocations announced today are Delaware, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Maryland, Alabama and California.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the allocation came on the heels of a report that unemployment among workers insured for jobless pay dropped to a new 1958 low during the week ended June 14.

The Labor Department's Employment Security Bureau said Friday the number of insured workers out of jobs declined by 113,000 to a total of 2,704,600.

The drop, attributed chiefly to a continued seasonal upswing in outdoor work, represented the ninth successive weekly decline.

However, part of the decrease reflects workers who have exhausted their eligibility for further jobless benefits. An undetermined number in this category still are unemployed and are not reflected in the figures.

Look at All Goldfine Records To Be Asked by Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) said today he will insist that House investigators get all of Bernard Goldfine's records to find the truth amid conflicting statements in the Sherman Adams controversy.

"That's the one way we can corroborate all these things," said Bennett after hearing fresh testimony from Boston businessman John Fox about relationships between Goldfine, millionaire Boston industrialist, and Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Fox's new testimony under oath drew more denials.

Bennett, a member of the subcommittee checking relations between Goldfine and Adams, spoke as the House group appeared to be in disagreement over whether to question Fox in secret when Fox returns to the witness stand Monday.

Friday Fox, who published the now-defunct Boston Post, quoted Goldfine as having told him that Goldfine had bought a Washington house for Adams and had given checks to Adams regularly before Adams came here with Eisenhower in 1953.

"FALSEHOODS," replied Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty on both counts.

Hagerty said Adams has rented two houses he has lived in since coming to Washington and that Goldfine never sent any checks to Adams.

NBC commentator David Brinkley said Friday night a title search showed the house now occupied by Adams is owned by Mrs. Dorothy B. Kerr.

Special Session Of Legislature Is Adjourned

Banning of Billboards On Interstate Roads Finally Given Nod

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sixteen Ohio Democrats Friday night approved a law banning billboards on new sections of the interstate highway system. The House accepted Senate amendments 88-13. That finished the job.

Six Democrats and three Republicans opposed the controversial measure as a high-pressure special session of the Legislature ground to a halt after being in session off and on for about 35 hours in a period of 58 hours since it convened.

The billboard ban was adopted despite warnings of constitutional complications and several hours of eloquence to the contrary not withstanding.

Curbstone summary of the political effects of the special session: No one gained much, no one lost much.

The special session of the Legislature accomplished this:

It approved a 13-week extension in the present 26 weeks of eligibility of jobless workers for unemployment compensation.

IT APPROPRIATED an extra $6 million for poor relief to enable the state to continue matching local relief spending dollar for dollar.

It corrected a defect in a law governing the spending of $10 million in state funds for classroom construction in needy districts.

It corrected a typographical error in the form of a constitutional amendment which will appear on November's ballot permitting the formation of metropolitan federations.

It extended from 25 to 40 years the permissible period for which general obligation bonds may be issued for municipal sewer lines.

In the most part, Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill got everything he asked of the GOP-dominated Legislature.

The anti-billboard bill drew the most fire and caused the most trouble.

In its final form, it prohibits billboards within 660 feet of relocated sections of the interstate highway systems. One-time fines of $100 to $1,000 are provided for violations. Violations must be reported by the state highway director to the common pleas court in the county in which the violation occurs for action.

Just before adjournment, the Senate confirmed a batch of Gov. O'Neill's appointments.

THEY INCLUDED Herman H. David of Cleveland Heights as a Democratic member of the State Board of Liquor Control. He was confirmed 19-0 after Democrats questioned whether he actually is a member of their party. He was an O'Neill supporter in 1956.

Also confirmed on the third vote his reappointment was submitted to the Senate was Forest G. Ketter, Ohio State University trustee. He squeezed through on an 18-0 vote. He needed 18 votes for confirmation.

Subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) halted Fox right after the controversial witness got in his statements about the house and the checks. But Harris left it open as to whether he would finally agree to hear Fox Monday in closed session, in line with repeated requests from Goldfine aides.

"another malicious falsehood" a statement by Fox that Goldfine once said in the presence of Adams and Fox that Adams "is going to take care of" some troubles Goldfine was having with the Federal Trade Commission.

"I deny it ever happened," Adams said.

Ohio Freeway Takes Widow's Home

TRAFFIC EVICTS WIDOW—Mrs. Hazel Deubel, 61, sits disconsolately among her belongings, some of them under tarpaulin, in Cleveland, and beyond her is what's left of her home, which was razed to make room for a freeway. She was on relief, and a matter of a dozen pet dogs made finding another place to live next to impossible.

Ike Deplores Aid Fund Cut

Appeal by President Meets Resistance

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's appeal for restoration of foreign aid funds taken away by a House committee met stiff Democratic resistance today.

Eisenhower said Friday he was deeply distressed by the House Appropriations Committee's reduction of $872 million from his requested $3.9 billion for economic and military aid to friendly nations in the fiscal year starting next Tuesday.

If the deep cut is allowed to stand, Eisenhower said, "I fear there will be important losses to the free world and a serious decreasing of the security of the United States."

The House will vote next week on the $3,078,000,000 money bill totaling $357 million less than is being spent on overseas assistance in the current fiscal year. It is $597 million less than the $3.6 billion ceiling fixed in authorization legislation finally passed by both houses Friday and sent to the President.

SEN. MIKE Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, said he thinks the committee's $872 million reduction is justified "but it was made in the wrong places."

The committee allowed only $300 million for the Development Loan Fund instead of the $625 million Eisenhower asked. It cut his $1.8 billion request for direct military aid to $1½ billion and reduced defense support allowances to $700 million.

Mansfield said that "if the House does vote to cut that Development Loan fund, then I think there will be a strong movement in the Senate not only to restore it to the level the President asked but to increase it."

The fund is designed to aid underdeveloped countries. Mansfield said support for it has grown because of Soviet attempts to infiltrate these areas through economic assistance.

The clergyman, rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Kirkwood, would say only that there had been a reconciliation and "there will be no divorce."

He would not let reporters question his wife, Mrs. Barbara Fox Doubleday, 33.

Mrs. Doubleday, mother of two, went to Reno four months ago and filed suit for divorce, accusing the minister of mental cruelty. He called a special meeting of the church's vestrymen, the governing body, and offered to resign. The vestrymen refused to accept his resignation.

IN HER DIVORCE suit, Mrs. Doubleday asked that her husband be given custody of the couple's two sons, 6 and 8.

In Reno, she took up with Raymond Lewis Headspeth, 37, a husky, tattooed former Texan working on a dude ranch.

The FBI said she cashed $200,000 in bonds, which she inherited last spring from her grandfather, and went with Headspeth to Tucson, Ariz., where they registered at a motel eight days ago.

Next morning she found her cowboy friend, her money, car and other belongings were gone. She went to the FBI Monday.

Headspeth, seized in Miami Thursday after attracting notice by his free spending, insisted she gave him the money.

"I reckon she'll have to come to Miami to testify for me," he said.

"An' I reckon I better not say any more till I talk to my lawyers."

The dude ranch hand, whose record includes convictions for forgery, grand larceny and auto theft, is charged in a federal warrant with traveling across state lines with the clergyman's wife in order to defraud her.

Cuban Rebels Say Kidnaped Yanks Are OK

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Rebels who kidnaped 10 U. S. and two Canadian engineers from a mining camp told an American wife that the men would be treated well and released shortly.

The Cuban government tried today to get the men back. U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith said he expects "the men will be released fairly soon and unharmed."

The men were abducted from Moa on Cuba's northeast tip Thursday night by 200 rebels who the U. S. State Department said were commanded by Raoul Castro, brother of rebel chief Fidel Castro. Three Cubans were killed.

Fidel Castro has been trying since December, 1956, to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista by attacks from the Sierra Maestra, 100 miles southwest of Moa, although his forces have not been very active since defeats in April. Castro has accused the United States of helping Batista.

Mrs. John Schissler, wife of a kidnaped California engineer, said a rebel leader told her the men were taken in reprisal for the alleged U. S. aid to Batista.

Officials of the Moa Bay Mining Co. reportedly went into the hills to dicker for release of the engineers. The officials expressed confidence that Dastro would turn them loose when they pointed out that the incident was bad publicity in the United States.

Minister Takes Back Wife After Her Fling with Cowboy

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A clergyman has taken back his errant wife whose brief romance with an ex-convict cowboy came to light after the cowboy was arrested on charges of defrauding her of a $203,000 inheritance.

The Rev. James A. Doubleday, 39, and his wife emerged solemn-faced from their suburban home to see newsmen Friday.

The clergyman, rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Kirkwood, would say only that there had been a reconciliation and "there will be no divorce."

He would not let reporters question his wife, Mrs. Barbara Fox Doubleday, 33.

Rebels Label Latest Action As 'Violent'

Outnumbered Loyalists Use Artillery, Jet Planes in Defense

BEIRUT (AP)—A battle raged for more than 12 hours overnight in Tripoli between government and rebel forces, insurgent sources reported today.

Eight persons were killed and about 20 wounded—many of them bystanders caught by stray bullets—the reports from the northern port city said.

Maan Karami, brother of the northern rebel leader, Raschid Karami, said that it had been the most violent night for Tripoli since the Lebanese crisis began 50 days ago.

Lebanese security forces were braced for new onslaughts after stopping four rebel attacks Friday in the gravest challenge so far to President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government.

The battle in Tripoli began at 4 p. m. Friday when armed men infiltrated close to security forces positions, Karami said.

THE SHOOTING began to subside this morning, but at noon the thunder of artillery still could be heard in the hills surrounding Tripoli.

Security forces reportedly used heavy artillery frequently during the battle. It was the third straight day of heavy fighting around Tripoli.

An army communiqué reported the attacks were put down Friday with the help of jet planes, artillery and armored cars—one of the army's biggest shows of strength during the seven-week rebellion.

Heavy fighting broke out in the morning and again in the afternoon in the capital's Basta Moslem quarter. Armored cars wiped out a rebel street barricade to claim one victory.

At Rasheya in southern Lebanon, the communiqué said, an attack on the army garrison was driven off in a sharp exchange of gunfire. Another attack at the north Lebanese port of Tripoli was stopped, the Army said, after rebels advanced within 50 yards of army positions.

The communiqué also claimed that government troops, outnumbered 5-1, turned back a heavy rebel assault on Mt. Tereol in the north with aerial and artillery support.

THE REBELS claim control of three-quarters of this Middle Eastern republic, which is smaller than Connecticut, and say they will keep fighting until Chamoun quits. The president, whose term expires in mid-September, has conceded the rebels dominate at least one-quarter of Lebanon.

Chamoun has accused President Nasser's United Arab Republic of sending in arms and men to aid the rebels. A U. N. observer team established to investigate the charges said Thursday it had found some aid coming in from the U. A. R.'s neighboring Syrian province.

The observers said they believed they could shut off the U. A. R. aid. U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, who was in the Middle East for a week recently checking on the situation, reportedly believes the observer teams are making progress.

Skywatchers Wait For 'Moon' Death

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Skywatchers the world over are maintaining a death watch. They are hoping to see the death of a satellite.

Scientists predicted that Explorer III, launched March 26, was to have plunged toward earth any time beginning Friday and burn like a meteor when it plows into the upper atmosphere.

Scientists agree generally, however, that anyone seeing the death of Explorer III is likely to be just plain lucky.

Carrier Enterprise Heads For Scrap Pile

NEW YORK (AP)—The famed aircraft carrier Enterprise, known as the fightingest carrier in the fleet during World War II, has been auctioned off for scrap.

Apparent high bid was $361,133 by Lipsett, Inc., a New York scrap metal firm. The ship was credited with downing 911 enemy planes, sinking 71 ships and damaging 192 others.

Cyril, Sea Lion Vagabond, Is Center Of Dispute Between Toledo, Canada

TOLEDO (AP)—It might perk up the lagging appetite of Cyril, the year-old sea lion, if someone told him today the headlines he's earned in his vagabonding of the last week have made him famous.

And being famous is synonymous with being valuable in show business—whether it's in the Toledo Zoo, where he's now housed in a bear cage and where the admission charge is 50 cents, or back in Springbank Park at London, Ont., where he escaped the night of June 19 and where the customers pay a quarter.

If Cyril knew how officials of each zoo pressed claim of ownership to him Friday, arguing to a stand-off, he might not even feel so miserable about the welts on his hide. These blemishes are apparently after-effects of tranquilizer drugs Toledo Zoo men fired into him with a dart gun Friday to make his capture easy.

The London Public Utilities Commission, which operates the zoo there, sent two of its members here for a conference late Friday with Director Phil Skeldon of the Toledo Zoo.

Cyril arrived in London June 17 from California where sea lions are so plentiful in the Pacific they cause no excitement at all. They're not famous, either, and can be bought, as Cyril was, turned home Friday night with their mission unaccomplished.

The Toledoans argued that Cyril belongs to them because he had been taken in international waters just like fish. The Canadians felt the case was one involving stolen property.

"Personally, I feel he now belongs to the Toledo Zoo," said Skeldon, who has spent most of this week playing hide-and-seek with Cyril at the western end of Lake Erie.

Cyril arrived in London June 17 from California where sea lions are so plentiful in the Pacific they cause no excitement at all. They're not famous, either, and can be bought, as Cyril was,

for $150, plus about $60 for shipping.

The day after he got to London, Cyril slid under a fence, dove into the Thames River and began a marathon swim of hundreds of miles—to Lake St. Clair, to the Detroit River, to Lake Erie, to Maumee River, to Sandusky Bay, and to fame.

Drowsy from the tranquilizer shots, Cyril was captured in a boat house on Sandusky Bay Friday by Skeldon and Dan Danford, the zoo's curator of mammals. Danford slipped a noose over Cyril's head, and the wandering sea lion added his most recent mileage in the back of a station wagon.

Fayette County Crop Lines

By W. W. MONTGOMERY
(County Agent)

Sunshine, oh beautiful sunshine. How the farmers of the county will welcome you. The weatherman in Washington C. H. says we have had 14 days of rain and 5.66 inches so far this month.

Some other parts of the state has had more, particularly around central and western part of the state. This June will be one of the wettest and next week we will have the official rainfall for the first six months of 1958.

Corn, soybeans and hay has suffered most in Fayette County in this wet period. However, someone has said we always have more feed in a wet year than a dry year.

Corn, Fayette County's main crop, with about 72,000 acres, has suffered most. One farmer has estimated as much as a fifty per cent damage in some fields. Another said he saw a 35-acre field he didn't believe he would make it for the harvest.

There isn't a single sizeable field in the county that hasn't had some water damage. Friday evening there was water standing on the fields of soybeans and corn in the southern parts of the county.

HIGH PLACES in the corn fields on the clay ground shows much damage as well as the low places. This is due to the fact that all the air has been driven out of the soil, the water has filled all the porous places, therefore the corn can get no oxygen and it is smothering to death. All corn turns yellow from the lack of air.

Most farmers indicate there has been a 15 to 20 per cent damage in the over all corn crop.

Soybeans turn black, as well as yellow when they have had too much rain and water. Some soybeans were completely covered by water Friday evening. There were 28,000 acres of soybeans last year in the county with an average yield of 26 bushels. Even with all the rain there are some good looking fields of soybeans.

These are on well drained fields. Tile is really showing up as it does in all years. Corn is as much as a foot taller over the drain tiles. But, as one farmer said, "we can't afford to drain all our land like that." What he really meant was, that there wasn't enough net profit in farming so he could afford to do all the tiling needed.

SOME PEOPLE have asked questions about the hay loss. Some of the farmers have simply "bucked" the black hay in huge piles around over the fields and are leaving it there to rot. In some places the alfalfa has grown up six inches over the hay lying in the swath. Some are bailing the rotten stuff to get it off the field so it will not interfere with the next crop of hay.

There is no estimate on the hay value in the county. We harvest annually about 28,000 acres.

One thing we can say, is that the quality of hay will be very low this year. Hay has passed its high protein content.

It is reported that some barley has been combined. Most of the barley and oats fields look poor. Yield will certainly be low.

Last year's oat yields were low. Average was only 32 bushels compared to a 50 and 52 bushel yield in 1954 and 1955.

Next week will certainly find the farmers working eighteen hours a day - making hay, combining barley, plowing corn and soybeans and then just doing "odd jobs."

Experiment Station Building For Agricultural Engineering

WOOSTER — A field of wheat will yield the right-of-way this summer for a new research building at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. Soon after wheat harvest, ground breaking should begin on the new Agricultural Engineering Building, Director L. L. Rummel announced today.

Construction of this building will mark another milestone in the 76-year history of the research institution. The new facilities will permit research in farm machinery, buildings, drainage and other engineering aspects of farming which have never been conducted at Wooster before.

This department has been located entirely at the Ohio State University at Columbus since its organization and is now headed by Professor Roderick D. Barden.

THE $500,000 structure will be located east of Williams Hall and will be made of brick and stone facing similar to adjacent Williams and Gourley Halls. The central portion, 107 by 44 feet, and will have two above-ground stories and a basement. A single floor to the rear of the main building will be 64 by 182 feet and will house a completely equipped machine and farm equipment shop. Space will be ample to erect a custom-built piece of farm equipment inside.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture staff of the Agricultural Research Service's Toledo laboratory, headed by Frank Irons, will join the experiment station staff when the building is completed. The combined agricultural engineering force will be about 10 men.

Included in the building will be a soil and water laboratory, a crop conditioning and processing laboratory, and analytical laboratory, a small machinery components laboratory, electrical control and instrumentation laboratory, and a laboratory for basic studies in farm engineering.

He joined the information staff as associated editor in 1952. Prior to this appointment he served as Extension Service dairy marketing specialist for nine years.

A veteran of World War I, Christian taught vocational agriculture at Canal Winchester after graduation from Ohio State. Econogram for Farmers

EDITOR'S NOTE: These news highlights in economics and public affairs relating to agriculture are summarized by agricultural extension economists at Ohio State University.

Pig Crop Report just released shows: Estimated 14 per cent increase in fall pig crop this year compared with last fall in U. S. Sows farrowing expected to be up 13 per cent.

Number of pigs saved in spring of 1958 was up 2 per cent above spring of 1957. Total pigs saved for the entire year 1958 expected to be 7 per cent above 1957.

Hogs over six months old on farms June 1 show 1 per cent increase over last year. Sows held for fall farrowing represent a much larger proportion of June 1 inventory of hogs over six months old than last year.

OHIO FARMERS expect to have 8 per cent more sows to farrow this fall than year ago. Low farmers estimate a 20 per cent increase. Such increases in numbers will cause prices in 1959 to be off considerably from 1958 levels.

HOG-CORN FEEL ratio for week ending June 14 was 16.7 compared to 16.7 the previous week and 14.8 a year ago.

OMNIBUS farm bill still under consideration by House Agricultural Committee. Bill includes amendments to Agricultural Trade and Development Act (i.e. extending P-480 for one year); extending National Wool Act for three years; other commodities involved are rice, cotton, wheat milk and feed grains.

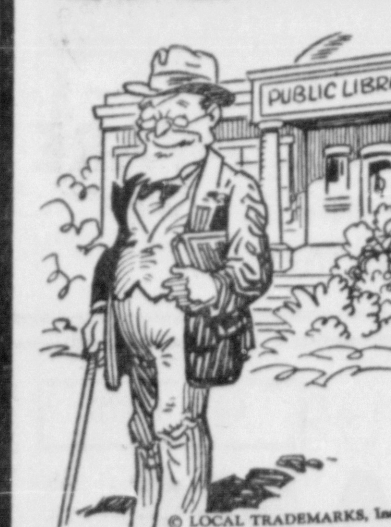

RECIPROCAL Trade Agreements Act extending program for five years passed House by wide margin. Expect changes in Senate in scope of bill and time cut from five to three years. Some protectionist concessions for domestic industries likely.

NEW BILL proposed known as Agricultural Research and Industrial Act designed to encourage increased industrial use of agricultural products by coordinating research programs.

PRELIMINARY announcement of 1959 conservation reserve program states: Annual payment rate in Ohio will be increased to $19 per acre from $12 per acre last year, and a 10 per cent premium for total cropland participation. Proposed state goal is for 219,000 acres in 1959. Final program will be reviewed soon in Washington before released according to State A.S.C. office.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Back in the "good old days" when monthly stock sales more or less gale occasions, were held here the last Tuesday of every month they brought large numbers of wandering gypsies and horse traders into the city. These nomads would camp over night near here.

One of their favorite haunts was "Gypsy Lane" or Jamison, or Jonesboro, Rd., extending from Jonesboro northward to Route 35. Invariably this road was lined with nondescript horses and wagons and unkempt men, women and children, who made their camps at the roadside and slept on the ground or in their wagons.

Some of the "better class" (if there was such a thing among these harem-scarem wanderers) had colorful wagons which much resembled the gaudy red, yellow, blue and green circus wagons.

It was always a notable occasion among the gypsies themselves, for they bartered small articles and visited among themselves and occasionally the hot-blooded gentry engaged in vicious fist and knife fights.

They always had a number of "skate" horses to sell or trade and these were allowed to graze along the road.

Everytime the residents of the neighborhood saw the outfit gathering on "gypsy lane" they made certain that their hen houses were padlocked and kept their shotguns ready to ward off thieving generally.

Many persons felt that it was not safe to walk along "gypsy lane" when it was inhabited with dozens of the nomads who were famous for their pilfering, horse trading, and repairing metal household utensils — for a big fee.

"Gypsy Lane" was not the only place where these rovers assembled over night, but it was one of their most notorious gathering places here.

"JUNGLE CAMPS"

Up to some 20 years ago "jungle camps," where tramps assembled, were rather numerous in this community. They were frequented by the "weary willies" who went from place to place, begging as they went and stealing when they could not obtain food by begging.

These "camps" were usually in isolated spots along the railroads or creeks and were littered with tin cans and other rubbish, left by the nomads.

One of these was along the railroads near Potters Switch, west of the city. Another was along the old CH&D and DT&I near Millwood and a third was near the creek back of the former Fayette Canning Co. plant while a fourth and one most frequented, was along Paini Creek north of the Robinson Rd. bridge. Others were under railroad bridges and trestles in the city.

Sometimes a dozen tramps would occupy the camps at one time bringing in what food needed cooking and cooking it and making coffee in tin cans over a fire kindled amid several stones piled to form an "oven" or fireplace.

Occasionally, bloody fights developed among the hoboes, as most of them were disagreeable characters, some with criminal records. It was usually every man for himself. There was little sharing of food among the unkempt disreputable characters who occupied the camps.

Twenty years ago Police Chief Jack Wolf made it a practice to round up the tramps and make them clean up the camps and do other work. Eventually, the tramps started shunning the city because tramps and work just didn't mix.

Now a tramp, or hobo, is a rarity. They know they are not allowed in this or any other city, and that there is really no excuse for them being tramps.

Old age pensions have done much to help rid the country of the hobo nuisance, which formerly was a real problem.

"HOT AND DRY" AHEAD

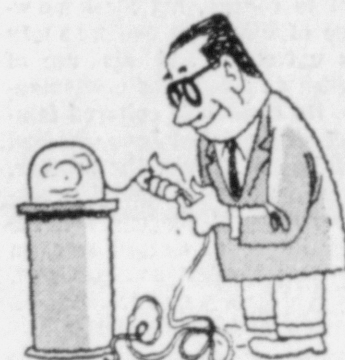

Several weeks ago the "Paint Valley Prophet" predicted unusually dry and hot weather, because the "crawdads" had failed to build an above-ground shelter for their burrows in the wet ground.

A day or two ago, I met him on the street and mentioned the unusually large amount of rain and cool weather.

"Just wait and see! It's coming most any time and the rest of the season is going to be hot and dry—and I mean hot and dry, too!" he declared.

Communities Should Back Health Officials

Medical schools and public health departments in Ohio and elsewhere in this country are continuing to play a prominent and growing part in public health of this nation.

All of us are concerned with good health and our various public health departments have become vital to public welfare.

A question has been raised in this country regarding proper sewage disposal of what is known as the North Shore area just north of this city's corporation limits, where lack of proper facilities for sewage disposal imposes a constant potential threat, according to the Fayette County Health Department, which says that some action must be taken soon to eliminate such hazard. Official steps have been taken to bring this matter toward an early decision as to what may or will be done.

If there should be such a thing as an epidemic in this community and it were traced to conditions to which the health department has been pointing, nearly everyone would be critical and would be asking why some action had not been taken earlier.

All such conditions throughout the nation are gradually receiving more attention in our medical schools as well as through state and local health departments. Too often the general public takes the good health of a community for granted.

In this connection medical schools are exerting a quiet but persistent influence for more community alertness.

It is reported that the medical schools are now teaching 30,000 medical students. At the end of the current academic year another 7,000 young physicians will be graduated. But the doctor doesn't work alone—with him are dentists, pharmacists, research scientists, and technicians, who also receive instruction in medical schools. The number of these students more than doubles the number of undergraduate medical students.

One of the basic reasons for our growing nation is that medical science has added 20 years to our life expectancy in the past half century. The medical research in school laboratories has led to the conquest of many diseases which formerly killed or crippled thousands of Americans each year.

While the medical schools are uncovering new knowledge and creating new cures at an unprecedented rate, they are faced with the mounting task of keeping 200,000 practicing doctors abreast of developments. The National Fund for Medical Education discloses that 90 per cent of the prescriptions written today could not have been prescribed 10 years ago. With this fact in mind, it is easy to understand the organization's statement that a doctor who has not learned anything in the past five years is likely to be practicing outdated medicine.

As medical science continues to progress and grow more complex, the schools and public health departments will be in urgent need of continuing and accelerated support.

All of our communities therefore should lend strong backing to what our medical schools and our health departments are doing and accomplishing.

About George Bayard Swope

By George Sokolsky

The art of reporting has changed as governments have devised methods of depriving the public of the truth. What made Herbert Bayard Swope one of the two or three most competent reporters of all time was that he long recognized that really to what is going on, a reporter must be inside the story. In a word, while many of his contemporaries were standing outside a door, waiting for a great man to come to them to give them a statement, Swope, even as a young man, was dining with the aforesaid great man and was probably helping him to write the statement.

During the 40 years, boy and man, that I have known Swope, I have come to recognize why so many lesser and incompetent men envied him his combination of ability to get at the central facts, his vast knowledge of men and events, his enormous memory and his capacity to organize facts. To listen to Swope discourse on the difference between a reportorial account and an editorial account of a situation was a lesson in journalism which would help many of this younger generation to understand the reason why, with superior communications, the news is not only belated but often an opinionated mishmash of a situation.

Herbert Bayard Swope possessed qualities of aristocratic bearing and noble living which are genetic not cultivated and which opened to him doors which were closed to others. His was the grand manner and the noble gesture and he was able to get a Wall Street story at the race track with greater ease than a financial writer could get it in the stock exchange.

Wherever he was, his head was high and nobody would call him one of the boys and that made a tremendous difference in his efforts to get a story because he was treated as a responsible man of understanding. Today, when the hand-out has become the curse of American journalism and it is undoubtedly the reason why the American people with a widespread press, radio and television news service are so poorly informed and have become subject to governmental propaganda which the old-time reporters such as Upton Sinclair, Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Ida Tarbell and Herbert Bayard Swope would have torn to shreds.

When Swope edited "The World" in New York, he produced what has come to be known in American journalistic history as the best "page opposite," meaning opposite the editorial page. He employed a galaxy of brilliant writers. This was still a period when the press accepted leadership in causes. The press still had a mission and a purpose. It was unafraid. When a William Randolph Hearst or a Joseph Pulitzer when after a politician or a predatory businessman, the devil trembled in his boots. He knew that the newspapers would get him and the newspapers served the public interest.

But at that time newsprint was not expensive. There was no radio and television to take the cream off the advertising appropriations. Salaries were comparatively small and newspapermen regarded their work as a calling not a job. They worked around the clock with a joy in their hearts because they were making a new world. It was a time of giants in this profession.

Herbert Bayard Swope never went to college, but his knowledge of literature and his use of English as a tool was craftsman-like. He came of a cultured family of distinguished Jews who had settled in St. Louis. His brother, Gerard, whom he adored, worked for General Electric and became its head. Gerard was an introvert; Herbert an extrovert. Between them was a tremendous affection and understanding.

The friendship between Herbert Bayard Swope and Bernard Baruch has often been misinterpreted as an employer-employee relationship. To the vulgar, everything is cast in the mold of a coin. These men had been close and intimate friends and to make a trio, the name of Winston Churchill might be added. It was a friendship based upon personal affection, like-mindedness and the give and take of great knowledge of affairs.

I had known Herbert Bayard Swope for perhaps 40 years, with more or less intimacy for a quarter of a century, and I mourn him with both affection and respect.

Diet and Health Human TB Reaction Has Wide Variation

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

STATISTICS aren't just a bunch of confusing figures. Translate statistics into human beings and you know an awful lot about a lot of people. Let's just take one disease, tuberculosis.

Statistics tell us that the tall, lanky and underweight individual is more likely to develop TB than a person who is short, stocky and overweight.

Reaction to Test

Moreover, if he reacts strongly to a tuberculin test, he is five times more likely to develop the disease than a person who has a negative test.

If a young child comes down with TB, chances often are that he caught it from his mother or father. These days, however, he probably will develop a milder form of the disease than in previous years.

As for adult TB victims, statistics tell us that we probably will have more trouble getting elderly bachelors to agree to surgery than with most other patients.

They're Apprehensive

We suspect this is because older men are more fearful of operation. They probably believe that persons their age present a greater surgical risk than do younger patients.

Also, older patients probably live more for the present or immediate future, or yearn for the "good old days" of the past. More youthful patients, on the other hand, are more apt to think further ahead and to plan for life in the future.

Well, statistics tell a story there, too. We know, for example, that women generally fare better than men do after

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THEY TELL YOU a lot about the intricate, strategic maneuvers of big league baseball—but sometimes the most devious plans of the master minds backfire disastrously. Like a time years ago when Manager Bill Terry was on the third base coaching line and his Giants were trying to solve the elusive slants of Dizzy Dean. The fellow pitching for the Giants was no slouch, either—a fellow named Carl Hubbell, and in the last of the eighth both sides had failed to score a single run.

The Giants got a man to first with one out when a weak batter came to the plate. Just as Dean was about to deliver a pitch, the batter stepped out of the box to catch a signal from Terry. The same thing happened twice more. Whereupon the great Dizzy Dean lost his patience and holered, "You lumox, he's done give you the bunt sign three times now! For Pete's sake, let's go!"

Here's How New Extended Jobless Benefits Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The special session of the Ohio Legislature has approved an administration bill to give added unemployment benefits to those who have exhausted their regular unemployment compensation.

To answer some of the basic questions about how the new law will operate the Associated Press consulted the man who will be directly concerned with its administration—Benjamin Pound, director of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Division of Compensation.

Who is eligible to receive the extended benefits?

Any unemployed person who exhausts his regular benefits between June 30, 1957 and July 4, 1959 when the law expires.

Does that mean a person who exhausted his benefits last summer and remained unemployed since then can apply for the extended jobless pay?

Yes, but there is little likelihood that a person who has not been actively seeking work between the time his benefits ran out and the time he applies for the new extended benefits will have his claim honored.

Take, for example, a woman who exhausts her regular benefits and then marries and leaves the labor market. A claim for the extended benefits probably would be disallowed by administrative ruling.

If a person was declared ineligible for regular compensation can he still apply for the extended benefits?

No. Anyone declared ineligible for regular benefits or if his regular benefits were cancelled for any reason is automatically ineligible for extended benefits.

If a person exhausted his benefits, remained unemployed for a time after that and then found work, can he apply for compensation for that added time of unemployment?

No. Only persons unemployed at the time a claim is filed are considered.

When can claims for extended benefits be filed?

The extended benefits take effect 15 days after the bill is signed into law by Gov. C. William O'Neill. Claims can be filed with your local BUC office on the following Monday.

What are the benefits?

The claimant for extended benefits will receive the same weekly amount he received under his regular compensation for half of his original benefit period. Thus, if a man received $30 a week for 10 weeks under the extended program.

The maximum allowable under regular compensation is $39 for a man with a family and the maximum payment period is 26 weeks. Thus the maximum allowable benefits under the extended program is $39 for 13 weeks.

How will an unemployed person who exhausts his regular benefits after the program goes into effect apply for the extended benefits?

The BUC will notify each claimant when his regular benefits are expiring. He will then go to the new claims section of his local BUC office and fill out one simple form. The extended benefits then will take effect automatically at the expiration of his regular benefits and there should be no interruption of his weekly checks.

Ross County Hearing Booked

COLUMBUS (U)—The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals has scheduled a hearing for July 8 in the Ross County library financing fuss.

The Ross County district library last fall appealed from a Ross County Budget Commission allocation of classified property tax funds that gave the library $35,000 for 1958 operations. The library claimed its share should have been $49,327, with the additional money going for bookmobile services and anticipated salary increases.

The state board raised the amount to $43,527, decreasing amounts allocated to the city of Chillicothe and six villages. Chillicothe appealed to the state Supreme Court which earlier this month told the tax board to take another look at the case.

Grange Program Is by Children

Visit to Mt. Logan Also Is Planned

A children's program and the planning of a visit to the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis Sanatorium near Chillicothe were the highlights of the Wednesday evening meeting of the Madison Good Will Grange.

Youngsters, directed by Mrs. Leiland Stevens, provided the entertainment for the evening. Phyllis Jean Locke opened the program with a piano solo, "Kentucky Babe." Don Bowers recited "When Mother Spans Me," and "Bees."

Debbie Johnson recited "Japanese Garden." Her costume was an authentic Japanese holiday celebration garb.

John Cannon III gave the comical version of a boy reciting the poem "The Burning Deck." Joyce and Patty Cannon and Janet McCoy presented two vocal selections, accompanied by pianist Wayne Locke.

Debbie Johnson recited "When Mother was a Girl" and John Cannon III presented the humorous skit, "Herbie, Answer the Phone." Phyllis Locke's oratory was entitled "Chicken Dinner."

Wayne Locke's piano solo, "The Soldiers Chorus," from Faust, concluded the program.

Teachers of the pianists on the program are Mrs. Marion Gage and Mrs. Mary Vincent.

Worthy Master Roger Hays was in charge of the Grange's business session, when Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside were named co-chairman of a committee to plan for a program to be given by the Grange for patients at the Mt. Logan Sanatorium in the near future.

Plans were made for the annual Grange inspection July 30 and several other items of business were discussed.

On the host and hostess committee for the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. David Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bitzer and Stephen Sterling.

Volunteer Firemen's Board Names Officers

Harold L. Sprague has been elected chairman of the Volunteer Firemen's Dependents Fund Board.

The purpose of the committee is to administer relief and pensions of volunteer firemen. The committee is composed of two volunteer firemen, two members of City Council and one citizen representative.

Emerson H. Warner was elected secretary of the board. Other members are Robert Sanderson and James Shoemaker, representing Council; Warner and Sprague, representing the 15 volunteer firemen; and William Holdren, the citizen member who was appointed by the four others.

This board will serve until Jan. 1. The board certifies the amount the city pays into the fund, the state pays the rest. The county prosecutor is legal counsel.

Dodgers Get Good Return On Bonus Baby

Lefty Pitcher Koufax Wins 3, Saves Another In Only 6 Days Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It looks as though this is the year the Los Angeles Dodgers pocket the payoff on that $20,000 bonus southpaw Sandy Koufax collected in 1954.

Sandy's been right handy of late, winning three and saving another in a six-day span while the last place Dodgers have won six of seven in a come-alive drive that has produced their first four-game winning streak of the season.

Brooklyn-born Koufax, 22, hit his one-season high with his sixth victory Friday night, a 3-1 complete game job that gave him a 4-0 lifetime record against Milwaukee. It also stretched the Dodgers' winning jinx over the Braves to nine in a row, seven this season.

While Los Angeles moved within six games of Milwaukee, the Braves' National League lead remained at 1 1/2 games despite their third consecutive loss, their fifth in seven games.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals were beaten 5-4 at Philadelphia in 11 innings. And the San Francisco Giants, .002 percentage points behind St. Louis, lost 6-5 at Cincinnati. The Chicago Cubs took fifth place, cracking a tie with Pittsburgh with a 3-1 victory over the Pirates, who have lost seven in a row.

In the American League, the New York Yankees upped their lead to 8 1/2 games, beating second place Kansas City 10-3. Detroit defeated Boston 7-4. The Chicago White Sox whipped Washington 3-0 and Cleveland defeated Baltimore 6-3.

Dick Farrell (5-2) won his fourth in a row with a one-hit, shutout relief over 2 2/3 innings for the Phils. Billy Muffett (3-2), the fourth Card pitcher, was the loser.

The Giants, down 4-1, hustled back on Daryl Spencer's 11th homer and Rookie Orlando Cepeda's 15th, both two-run shots, for a 5-4 edge by the fifth, then blew it in the 9th. An error by Ed Bressoud, a walk and Johnny Temple's triple capped it away for reliever Hal Jeffcoat (4-4). Marv Grissom (4-3) lost it in relief for the Giants.

Moe Drabowsky, the Cubs' bonus kid who gets married today, had a two hit shutout until Johnny Powers' first homer in the eighth, then needed Bill Henry's relief in the ninth to gain a 6-7 record.

Polar Bears Leave Medics Doubled up

Nine hits — four of them doubles — sent the Giron Polar Bears into a clean-cut 6-2 win over the Medics in a Babe Ruth League contest at Rossmann Field Friday night.

Ed Juillerat, George Naylor, Charles Wright and Bill Johnson collected two-base hits as the hard-working, efficient Polar Bears took the Medics into camp. Naylor led the scoring with two runs, while Juillerat and Wright each added a single to their two-bagger to lead the hitting for the day.

Don Juillerat, Ed's brother and the Polar Bear's 13-year-old pitching ace, gave up five hits, struck out six and walked six. Both runs off him were earned. The Polar Bears scored two in the first and one in the second. The Medics got their two in the top of the third. The Polar Bears added one in the fourth and two in the sixth to push up their total.

Ernie Herman, taking a day off the mound with the Medics, had two singles, Dave Reno and Ronnie McLean scored the runs.

Class Schedule OK'd For Holiday Dragging

Drag racing classes for an Independence Day program at Clinton County Air Force Base July 4 has been approved by the Sponsoring Twin County Timing Assn.

The Independence Day races will be run under National Hot Rod Assn. rules, with time trials at 9 a. m. and elimination races at 1 p. m. Lewis E. Rittenhouse, TCTA president, said.

In addition to classes A through E in both stock and gas divisions, classes A, B, C, and D will be run in stock automatic transmission sections.

Frank Angier, track manager, added that A and B street rodster classes, A, B and C altered coupe, A and B roadster, A and B modified roadster, A and B competition coupe, and A, B and C dragster classes would be open. There will be trophies for all classes, including a large top eliminator trophy for the fastest competitor of the day.

THE QUARTER-MILE acceleration races will be run with the cooperation of CCAFB personnel, who will provide public address equipment, supervisory personnel, fire and ambulance service.

Stressed at all times will be safe operation and safe mechanical condition of the vehicles which enter. The cars must pass rigid safety inspection, Angier said. Admission is free, he said, with entry fees and charges for pit passes which win include added insurance protection.

Temple's Blast Cinches Win For Redlegs

CINCINNATI—Johnny Temple is a fiery second baseman with big ideas about hitting — his own hitting, of course.

Take his efforts Friday night, for example. The first time up he fanned. Same for the second and third times.

On his fourth chance, with the Reds behind by one run, he collected a single. But the chance to pull even died when he tried to reach home on Bob Thurman's double. Temple was out at the plate.

His fifth trip vindicated him. He blasted a two-run triple that sank the San Francisco Giants, 6-5.

Those three strikeouts in a row are conspicuous because they are so unusual. This tobacco-chewing South Carolinian who weighs only 163 pounds is one of the team's hitting mainstays with a .312 average. When the Reds were in an earlier slump, it was only Temple along with George Crowe and Don Hoak that hit consistently.

Temple still gripes about instructions not to try to hit certain pitches, often the first one to him. "It makes me sick to see those good pitches go by," he said. "Time after time, I see those fat first pitches come right over the plate with nothing on them and I just stand there."

But he says he's not criticizing Manager Birdie Tebbetts on this, only that "I just don't agree with him."

Busso Is Victor In Ortiz Match

NEW YORK—Champion of the East Side tonight, Champion of the world tomorrow.

Johnny Busso was the self-proclaimed "champion" Friday night in his dressing room at Madison Square Garden after he had taken a split decision over previously-unbeaten Carlos Ortiz in 10 sizzling rounds.

Busso lives in Astoria in the Queens area of New York now but he used to live on the East Side on 20th Street. Ortiz, Puerto Rican and now a resident of the Bronx, used to live on the East Side on 28th Street. Ortiz hadn't lost in 27 fights.

ington C. H.; Wolfe Pack, Dayton; Road Knights, Washington C. H.; Road Aces, Jeffersonville; and the Dragg'n' Angels, Washington C. H.

Officers of the association include Rittenhouse, president; Angier, vice president; Scott Hadley, secretary; and Richard Edwards, treasurer. Next meeting of the association will be Tuesday, July 1 at the Marsh Funeral Home, Wilmington.

Realtors Stage Late Campaign

Cowboys Have Hits But Fail with Runs

The Mac Dews Realtors, making a mountain of runs out of a molehill of advantages, came from behind and tumbled a free-hitting Med-O-Pure Cowboy team, 8-6 at Wilson Field Friday night.

The defending Little Major League champs, as good as beaten when the Cowboys hit their pitcher out of the box in the third frame, caught the fans and the opposition both by surprise in the fifth with a five-run spurge that sealed the victory. They did it all on seven hits—exactly half as many as the losers had.

Steve Rittig and Dick Kneisley scored two runs each with Jimmy Fletcher leading hitting with two singles. Tommy Townsend, Dave Wilson and Gary Mickle had a hit and a run each.

Mike Molloy, Dale Cox and Don Lentz had three hits each for the Cowboys, while Butch Leasure had two. Molloy, who crossed the plate twice, was top scorer for the Cowboys.

Joe Keefer, exercising style and control, struck 14 boys and gave up only three hits while his opponents piled up a clean margin of victory for the Elks over the Rockets at Armbrust Field Friday night.

Twelve hits helped the Elks pile up eight runs as they won, 8-2. A homer by Buck Jones accounted for the only Rocket scoring.

The FOPA club pummeled the Thunderbirds, 12-3, in the only outburst of the night. Gary Justice had eight strikeouts and issued but a single base on balls, while Briggs more hammered out a three-run homer in the first.

Pierce Is Robbed Of Perfect Game

CHICAGO—"I'll never get any closer," smiled Billy Pierce after pitching 8 2/3 innings of perfect baseball only to have his bid for immortality ruined by pinch batter Ed Fitz Gerald's double.

With the Chicago White Sox leading Washington, 3-0, and two out in the ninth, Fitz Gerald was summoned to bat for pitcher Russ Kemmerer. He swung at Pierce's first offering and sent a clean shot down the right field line.

A crowd of 11,300, cheering Pierce's every motion from the seventh inning on, sat back stunned even after Pierce struck out Albie Pearson to end the game. Their boos for Fitz Gerald turned into cheers for Pierce only when the 31-year-old left-hander reached the Sox dugout.

Wisconsin Town Proud of Duren

CAZENOVIA, Wis. (AP)—Prominently displayed on the bulletin board of the post office in this little community of 600 are the latest pitching records of the American League.

Encircled is the top name "Duren, New York."

The records show Duren with 48 strikeouts in 32 two-thirds innings and an earned run average of 1.09. Both marks are the best in the league.

"That's our boy," any man, woman or child of Cazenovia will tell you even if you do not ask.

Duren is Rinold George Duren Jr., 29, son of the Cazenovia postmaster and Mrs. Ann Murphy Duren. He also is the ace right-handed relief pitcher of the New York Yankees.

Ryne, as he likes to be called, finally hit the top this year, his 10th season in organized ball. According to his father, success came primarily because he has found his control.

Always blessed with a great fast ball and some good curves, Duren bounced around with various minor league clubs because he was wild. He had a couple of brief previous shots at the big time, but couldn't stay up.

Ryne, one of eight children, has achieved success despite a bad eye that was injured when he was a child and despite the fact that he spent more than four months in bed with rheumatic fever 11 years ago. He still wears thickened glasses.

"It's because of his perseverance," his father said. "He never would let anything hold him back. He knew he was wild in the years he moved around the minors."

"Finally in 1956 at Vancouver, Lefty O'Doul got him straightened out and he's sure he will stay up now."

Ryne got his start in baseball in 1948 with Cazenovia in the Sauk County League, a circuit of small town teams that played Sunday ball.

He struck out and walked more batters than any other pitcher before or since has done for any team in the Sauk League, his father said.

The St. Louis Browns sent scout Eddie Danciak up to Wisconsin to look Ryne over in 1948 and Duren made a trip to St. Louis to have his eyes checked. A specialist advised Ryne to give up baseball, his father recalls, but he refused to do so.

Best Is King Of Ohio Seniors

COLUMBUS—Richard Best of New Philadelphia won the 18th Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament Friday, edging nine-time champion Allen Rankin of Columbus on the final nine holes.

Best, a 57-year-old manufacturing plant manager, was tied with Rankin, 64, a building and loan company executive, at the end of Thursday's opening round. Both had 73.

At the end of the first nine holes Friday the pair was still deadlocked with 37s, but Rankin had a pair of three-putt greens and dropped to a 40.

He finished with a 36-hole total of 150. Best posted a 148 over Scioto Country Club's 6,602-yard, par 36-72 course.

In the first World Series in 1903 each winning player received $1,182. In 1954 each member of the New York Giants getting a full share received $11,147.90.

Wildlife Body Sets Hunting Seasons Similar to 1957

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Council has lengthened this year's ruffed grouse hunting season and approved seasons similar to last year on pheasants, rabbits, squirrels and other game species.

The regulations were set Thursday shortly after the council, the policy setting body of the State Wildlife Division, conducted its annual state game and fish hearing.

These were the seasons and bag limits set by the council: Squirrel hunting in southern Ohio will run from Sept. 5 through Nov. 1 with a daily limit of four and possession limit of eight. Shooting hours are daylight to dark. In the north section the season will be Sept. 15 through Nov. 1. Bag limits and shooting hours will be the same.

The extended ruffed grouse season will run from Oct. 15 through Feb. 25 with a daily limit of three and possession limit of six.

Rabbit season will be from Nov. 15 through Jan. 3. Four is the daily bag limit, possession limit eight. Shooting hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ringneck pheasant and Hungarian partridge can be taken from Nov. 15 through Dec. 6 with a daily limit of two and possession of four. Shooting hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Night hunting season for raccoon, skunk and opossum will be from Nov. 15 through Feb. 14 with a bag limit of four.

Trapping season for muskrat, mink, raccoon, skunk and opossum will be Nov. 15 through March 15. There will be no limit for trapping.

The hearing was a culmination of a series of similar meetings in a. on Ohio's 88 counties and five game districts. Farmers, sportsmen and state wildlife officials expressed their views on fish and game regulations and related problems.

7. Cancer Control
Progress Cited
In Annual Report
Regular Checkup
For Early Detection
Save Many It Says
Although programs of cancer research and education reached record levels last year, failure to have regular medical checkups cost an estimated 75,000 Americans their lives from cancer, the American Cancer Society said in its annual report just released by the Fayette County unit.

The annual Crusade in Fayette County this year had brought in a total of $4,967.10 to date, Mrs.
Byron Hinton, executive - secretary, said when she made public the national report.

The report said that "remarkable progress" in cancer control in the past decade has increased the ratio of lives saved from one in four to one in three. But the Society said that existing methods of diagnosis and treatment were competent to save at least half of the 450,000 Americans who develop cancer every year.

"EARLY detection offers the only present hope of saving the 75, 000 who are needlessly lost each year—this means the check up," the report declared.

In making public the report on the National Society's 34th year Mrs. James Perrill, president of the Fayette County unit, said:
"In view of what we now know and can do about cancer, we should be saving the life of one cancer patient in every two. But we fall 75,000 lives short of this potential because existing medical knowledge and resources are not used to the fullest.

"The Society's immediate goal, in cooperation with our doctors, is to stimulate the American public into making the most of what we have in the latest methods of di-agnosis and treatment. This is the key to realizing our life-saving potential. Prompt and adequate treatment for cancer has saved 800,000
Americans who are alive and well today.

NOTING that support for cancer research has grown steadily from $500,000 in 1944 to $50,000,000 in 1957, the report said that the Society is now allocating about 39 per cent of funds contributed to cancer research. Society-sponsored research for 1945 through 1957 was totalled at $58,834,568. Grants awarded during calendar 1957 amounted to $10,439,569.

The Society reported public contributions of $29,650,000 to the 1957 Crusade, "the greatest amount ever contributed in a single year to a volunteer cancer-fighting agency.
It was $2,400,000 over the previous year's record high."

Decreases in collections were reported for the other four counties:
Clinton dropped to $9,655.24 from $11,872.15; Highland to $7,760.57 from $7,762.38; Madison to $8,697.
62 from $9,166.95; and Pickaway to $7,287.93 from $8,152.12.

Collections in all seven counties since July 1 last year are less than for a like period the previous year.
Collections in the state also showed a drop for the week ending June 14—from $3,961,736 last year to $3,709,595 this year.

With only 16 days yet to be reported in the waning fiscal year, cumulative collections since last July 1 amount to $210,597,938, which represents a drop of $10,294,364, or 4.66 per cent, from collections of $220,892,302 for the corresponding period of the previous year.

Jehovah's Witnesses
Plan for Convention
Special travel arrangements are being made to take Jehovah's Witnesses in this area to the international convention in New York
July 27 through Aug. 3. B. D. De-Wees, presiding minister here, said today. He did not say how many are expected to go.

The convention, which was held in Yankee Stadium in 1953, drew 165,000 Witnesses, DeWees said.
This year, the convention will be held in Yankee Stadium and the Polo grounds simultaneously, he commented.

1,000 Attend 1st Park Dance

Crowd Comes Late, Stays Late -- Merritt

About 1,000 people turned out for the much-delayed first dance of the summer on the basketball court at the community park here Friday, officials on the park recreation staff estimated.

Sponsored by the Athletic Assn., the dance was the first of a series to be held on Friday nights throughout the summer. Two earlier dances were postponed by rain.

Recreation Director Marvin Merritt said the dancers were apparently "keeping one eye on the sky" as the majority of the crowd didn't show up until nearly an hour after the dance began. Once they came, he said, they stayed until midnight.

"There wasn't a parking place in the lot by the time things got moving," he said.

Youngsters and older people alike turned out, he commented, noting that there was no really preponderant age group.

The sponsor pays the expenses of the caller and takes whatever profits are left over from the operation of the concession stand.

77th Songfest Featured by 'Sing-Down'

The turnout was not as big as some of those in the past, but when Friday night's 77th songfest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert on the CCC Highway, west-ended about midnight, the consensus was that "we had just as much fun as ever." Mrs. Wipert said there were 20 at the songfest, which sometimes in the past had drawn more than twice that many.

The shrink in attendance, she attributed to two factors: (1) press of farm work and "too many other things going on" and (2) the lapse of three months since the last songfest was held. She predicted the monthly gatherings would grow in the future.

The evening started with the singing of hymns, which eventually shifted to playing hymns on the high fidelity record player.

A highlight of the program was a "sing-down" in which three teams took turns singing songs with the names of states in the titles. On the winning team were Mrs. Gene Clay, Miss Jane Case, Mrs. Jeanette Lindsay, Mrs. L. M. Blessing and Tom Lightle. The prize was first place in the line for refreshments.

Next week, Mrs. Wipert said, the sing-down will be based on songs with the names of rivers in the titles.

Mrs. Maude Howland, who played the accompaniment for the hymn singing, also played, "Ohio", written by Miss Mary Duffee of Washington C. H.

There were two solos. Mrs. Clay sang "Blue Prelude" and Miss Rita Blessing sang "I Walk into the Garden."

Disorderly Conduct Charges Face Three

All was not quiet on the home front Saturday morning.

Between 1:10 and 4:05 a. m. three persons were arrested by city police for disorderly conduct.

About 1 a. m., Marian Bruce, a waitress at Son's Grill, signed a warrant charging William A. Smith, 30, of 406 N. North St. and his wife Cora Smith, 28, with disorderly conduct. Both have been released on $50 bond and are to appear in Municipal Court Monday at 9:30 a. m.

Norman Copas, 49, of 611 Blackstone Ave., was arrested at his home on a charge of provoking a quarrel and threats to fight filed by his wife Margie Copas. Copas was still in jail Saturday morning. He will appear before Municipal Court Monday.

COLUMBUS (AP)—A campaign to bolster public confidence as a means of combatting the recession is planned for Ohio.

The committee directed Williams to appoint a subcommittee to plan the campaign.

Objective of the drive will be "to engineer public confidence as a means of combatting scare psychology," Williams reported.

Florida Girl Is Joined in Death by Pup

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A dying little girl called from her hospital bed for her companion of gayer days, a terrier named Trixy.

Her only toy was a cigarette lighter that a week ago ignited some scrap paper and left her critically burned.

Her only thoughts were of Trixy. Eller Tuten, a 9-year-old cerebral palsy victim, and Trixy were inseparable in life.

Death claimed both within hours.

"The dog was her only companion," said Eller's uncle, William Tuten. "They were always together." He gave Eller the pup.

Eller's parents were divorced. Since birth she had lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glover Mathis.

"Both my wife and I went to see her regularly," the father said. "She was in good hands. It was just a terrible accident."

He said that Eller went to school like healthy children.

"She only had an occasional attack, but no paralysis."

A week ago, the grandparents returned home and found the child on her hands and knees in the living room, her dress blazing. She was able to tell them she had set the fire with the lighter.

Doctors said her body was 70 per cent covered with burns. While she was hospitalized some neighbors took in Trixy.

At 12:15 a. m. Friday, Eller died. Her last words were a call for Trixy.

Eight hours later, Trixy dashed under a car's wheels.

Experts Probe Cause of Crash

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Top-level investigating teams from the Air Force, the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the aviation industry today sifted the wreckage of a huge jet Stratotanker to determine what caused a crash that took the lives of 15 men.

The big tanker, one of four KC135s scheduled to streak to England to break transatlantic round trip records early Friday, crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff. Two similar planes that took off before her broke the west to east record. A fourth did not take off because of the tragedy.
